

Mountain County Pomona #4 Mini-Letter

December 13, 2010

Not going to be writing 2010 much longer. Isn't it amazing how fast time goes by!

Many thanks to Litchfield for hosting Pomona tonight. Should say "weather permitting" - because it does sound questionable. Hope it is good - Beulah plans to be there!

Next Pomona meeting is not until February - and it is Valentine's Day - February 14, 2011. It will be at Eureka - hope you will be there.

Looking at the calendar it shows few meetings before Christmas, understandingly - so much to do - so little time!

Eureka meets December 21 for a Christmas party -

Winchester meets tomorrow night with a Christmas Country Store and a grab bag, also, a collection of toys and food for the needy.

Litchfield and Eureka will be holding Cookie Walks on the same day, Saturday, December 18. We wish them success!

Riverton will have a children's Christmas party on the 17th.

The rest of the grangers say, "See you next year!"

I've just spent time to no avail - trying to find people home to answer the phone. Guess everyone is out Christmas shopping. So if any of the information is wrong - blame it on the phone. Anyway -

Amy Whitcomb (Taghannuck) is home and being careful. That is good news, Amy.

Gladys Anstett (Riverton) is at McLean's in Simsbury. Keep making progress, Gladys!

Louise Warren (Winchester) and Caroline Monroe (Winchester) are both having problems with their eyes; Matthew Kline (Winchester) is in Charlotte Hungerford Hospital with breathing trouble. Joanne Klingerman (Litchfield) is doing very well - may be there tonight. Barbara Rivers (Litchfield) is doing well; Bea Neri (Beacon) still has a way to go before feeling better; and I talked a bit with Shirley Moore (Riverton) who said Rujo is not feeling very well. For all of these and anyone else "under the weather" we wish you a better New Year and hope you will soon be well.

Take it from one who knows - a card from a friend means a lot. Send a few extra cards to some of those who are not getting around as they used to....it will be much appreciated.

Merry Christmas and a great
New Year to All!
