

Another nice day!
We're getting spoiled and doesn't it seem good!

refreshments this evening.

Next meeting, Aug. 28.
Picnic at the hall 6:30.
Come and enjoy.

So—another Fair bites
the dust! Thank you so much to every person who helped in so many ways. Sounds as tho every thing went well. When you realize that by holding an agricultural Fair you save your taxes, it makes our profit really good — and the Fair really worthwhile.

I meant to tell you who our judges were on Saturday: Baked Goods — Shirley Moore Flowers — Joe Cannavo and Vegetables — John Krish • Malcolm Sewell.

Arlene Hurlbot has had a nasty bout with poison ivy.
It is improving but still has a way to go. Wayne is feeling better.

Understand Sue Kline and Catherine are doing the Fairs with their rabbits.
We didn't know but Sue has had surgery but is doing well now and Caroline is home, also after surgery.

Had a call from Louise Warren yesterday. Her eyes are improving but she can't drive or read.
She sent her regards to everybody.

Many thanks to Fran and Charlie Cooper for the Guess this is it for

now. Not much information. Enjoy this beautiful day.
