

Guess there is no danger of a white Thanksgiving – but there certainly is a black Friday! It will be a relief when that is over! What time are you going shopping? I hear that some stores are opening as early as 5 AM!

Thanks to Ben and Don for the refreshments tonight. Next meeting is December 8 and Sandy and Craig are in charge of the “eats”. That evening will be our Christmas meeting. There will be a gift exchange ($5 value), try to bring something that is appropriate for a man or woman. There is a tree at the top of the stairs – and we are asking people to bring, toys, mittens, hats and canned goods for the needy and for children. This is a really needed project and we do hope all will cooperate.

Fran Cooper is making good progress following her surgery but she is also very busy helping their son, Kevin, who is not well.

Mildred Barshaw is doing well – let’s hope 2010 is better for her. Been a loong year, right, Mildred?

Soon there will be a big newsletter, which, of course, will remind you that dues are due – for 2010. I will be helping Sue a little bit by sending out receipts for dues payments – so I’m not through nagging, yet!

Our next meeting will be the last for 2009. Time to be thinking Merry Christmas and Happy New Year, but first think – Happy Thanksgiving to all. Hope it is scrumptious!
